Hardware Dealers Enjoyed Picnic at Palo Duro Park

The annual picnic of the Panhandle Hardware and Implement Dealers Association was held Sunday at the Palo Duro State Park. Nearly 700 members and friends attended the gathering from all sections of the Panhandle, many of whom were making their first visit to the Park.

The barbecue dinner Sunday was prepared and served by the wholesale hardware houses of Amarillo and their traveling salesmen.

Saturday night a dance was given at the lodge, which was attended by a large number. All cabins and tents of the Park were reserved for the visitors who came to spend the night.

Congressman Marvin Jones was a special guest of the hardware dealers Sunday. He greatly enjoyed an inspection of the work at the Park as explained by Supt. L. J. Bryan. He expressed the desire to return and make a more complete inspection with members of the local advisory board.

C. L. Thompson, secretary of the association, assisted the salesmen in planning the picnic and looking after the comforts of the guests Saturday night and Sunday.

MARVIN JONES

Congressman Marvin Jones will speak Tuesday at the chapel period of W. T. The public is invited to attend this gathering at 11:00 o'clock next Tuesday morning. Mr. Jones is chairman of the powerful Committee on Agriculture in Congress, and is recognized as one of the best informed men in the nation upon agricultural problems. Dr. J. A. Hill has invited the citizens of Canyon to hear Mr. Jones.

Mr. Jones is responsible for the postoffice building for Canyon, appropriation for which was passed by the last session.

An invitation has been extended Mr. Jones to speak at the Rotary luncheon following the chapel period.

Buffalo Courts Housing Athletes

South Section Completed and Men Moved Into Rooms Monday

Seventeen rooms are now completed in Buffalo Courts and are being occupied by athletes of the College. One room upstairs in the Recreation Hall is being occupied.

Work was finished on the rooms to the south of the Recreation Hall this week and the men moved in Monday night. During the training camp the men have been housed in various rooms in the athletic plant, largely sleeping on cots.

Since relief labor was entirely cut off Sept. 2nd, all labor has been carried on by the athletes. Thirty-three men on the varsity squad and 112 freshmen candidates have been working in completing the rooms of the Courts, and the grounds surrounding the Recreation Hall. In addition, Coach Baggett has a number of basketball men who are not playing football but have been assisting the football men in labor around the buildings.

C. H. Jarrett, chairman of the Canyon Athletic Club, states that all local workmen have been laid off owing to the lack of funds to carry on the work. The Athletic Club undertook the Courts with the view of housing about 65 athletes. Owing to the increased number of men seeking places, three have been placed to a room instead of two as originally planned. The east section of the Courts will be completed as soon as money is found to make this work possible.

DRUGGISTS HAVE DANCE AT PALO DURO THURSDAY

A jubilee and general get-together was held by the druggists and their wives of the 31st Senatorial District last Thursday night at the Palo Duro Canyon State Park.

Dancing and games at the El Coronado Lodge furnished the entertainment throughout the evening.

Wheat Contracts For Three Period

Committees Will Meet on Next Tuesday Preparing For Work

Wheat growers of Randall county will be offered their 1936-39 contracts soon. The three year contract will be signed this fall, instead of the one-year contract of the past.

County Agent W. H. Upchurch and members of the County Wheat Allotment Committee, R. B. Gist, J. P. Hix, L. T. Campbell, attended a meeting at Plainview Thursday of wheat officials of Northwest Texas at which time John R. Edmonds explained the new contracts. Mr. Edmonds is state wheat agent. He was assisted in this meeting by O. G. Tumlinson and Parker D. Hanna, district extension agents.

A meeting of all local committeemen of Randall county will be held in Canyon next Tuesday afternoon at 2:00 o'clock when Mr. Upchurch and the allotment committee will present its plans. The allotment committee spent Tuesday of this week in working out the details of the program in Randall county. Congressman Marvin Jones has been invited to speak to the farmers in the meeting next Tuesday.

Pertinent facts on the general wheat situation, as arrived at by the United States Department of Agriculture and the Agricultural Adjustment Administration, were discussed at Plainview Thursday as a fore runner of community meetings over the district, when the same information will be taken to the wheat farmers.

Mr. Edmonds entered into discussion of the administrative rulings, copies of which were supplied the county agents and wheat committeemen.

Primary changes in the contracts over the 1934-35 contracts are inclusion of one-year and other bases than the standard three-year base and the provision that administrative rulings current when contracts are perfected will govern.

Places won were: Four 1st; six 2nd; eight 3rd; three 4th; three fifth; three 3rd; Junior Champion bull; Senior Champion cow.

Revival Meetings Will Start Sunday at Two Local Churches

Revival services will start next Sunday at two churches in Canyon, the Baptist and Methodist. Rev. J. R. Hicks and Rev. J. O. Quattlebaum, pastors of the churches, decided that it was the best plan to run both meetings at the same time.

Rev. D. N. Shepherd, pastor of the Hereford Baptist Church, will do the preaching at the Baptist Church.

Dr. C. C. Grimes, pastor of the Polk Street Methodist Church, Amarillo, will preach at the Methodist Church.

"Members of the two denominations and citizens of Canyon are urged to come to the opening services Sunday," state the pastors, "and to attend all of the services next week."

The Methodist services will continue only through next week, but the meeting at the Baptist Church may continue for a longer period.

Postoffice Bids Are Still Open

Other Property Owners May Enter Bids Before Closing Time

Bids were received on five locations up to Monday of last week, but the time for filing bids with Postmaster Guy Harp is extended until the arrival of the inspector who will make the final selection.

W. S. Amend entered a bid for a location near the College during this week.

Other citizens who wish to enter bids may do so up until the inspector arrives, or until such a time as the bids are declared closed by the government.

It is noted that in Quanah 16 locations are being offered for the location of the building. Several of them have buildings which must be removed if the government should decide upon such locations. Quanah was the other town in Northwest Texas which was given a postoffice in the appropriation by the last session of congress.

Citizens who have property which they wish to offer as a site for the new postoffice building should file their bids at once since the closing time may come any day.

Congressman Marvin Jones states that as soon as the location is determined, the treasury and postoffice departments will be in a position to determine the type of building necessary to handle the business of Canyon. Bids should be called for a contract on the construction of the building within a short time after the location is selected.

More Than 10,000 Cars Enter Park

Attendance Runs About 50,000 People Since the First of January

Attendance at the Palo Duro State Park passed the 10,000 car mark during the past week, the number totalling 10,314. This means that more than 50,000 people have visited the Park this year since hundreds of people have paid entrance fees in excess to the five allowed for each car.

During the past week 275 cars visited the Park. The attendance was cut short by the Tri-State Fair which is always the major attraction of the Panhandle.

Amarillo contributed 89 cars; Dallas 12; Pampa 11; Plainview 8; Lubbock, Hereford 7; Canyon, Fort Worth 6; 50 other towns contributing the balance of the Texas attendance.

47 cars came from 17 states outside of Texas.

P. T. A. Program and Faculty Reception on Oct. 1

All committee chairmen and room mothers will be named for the year. Everyone is given a special invitation to attend this first meeting of the year, which promises to be instructive and inspirational.

VACATION MUSINGS

We have not decided which is the hardest part of a vacation—the mad whirl of getting things in shape to take a couple of weeks off, the rush of getting around to do all the things you want to do during the two weeks period, or the grind which follows the return in attempting to catch up with lost time.

But a vacation is a really necessary thing for every business man.

He should get out to see how other parts of the world are running.

Most likely he will return to his own home town feeling that after all he does not have the hardest life there is being lived.

Yes, we have been to California—for the first time.

There is something inspiring to think about California. A most glamorous something which makes every one wish to go there. So many interesting things are said and written about California, but the funny thing is that California is made up of all the rest of the world, and the same kind of folks live there as you find in all other parts; a little of the good, a little of the bad, and a whole lot of the common herd, of which the average citizen is the majority.

California is truly the melting pot of the great middle class of the United States, just as the east coastal cities are the melting pot of the unassimilated masses which enter this nation from European nations.

If it were not for a thousand miles of intervening country, California would not be a bad place to go for a vacation trip. But on the whole those intervening miles are long ones, and many miles of waste and desert, tires and wrecks the nerves of automobile drives, especially those who have a limited time to spend in recreation and of necessity must keep the throtle wide open.

We have been hearing a lot about the famous 66 highway. Frankly, it is about the worst highway we have ever traveled. If the counties through which No. 60 goes can get the gaps closed in Texas and New Mexico with good paving, 66 west from Amarillo will be unattractive excepting for the fact that it has the Grand Canyon. Highway boosters along 60 in Texas and New Mexico are sleeping on their rights. Practically all of the California business can be brought this way as it is now much better, with more paving, and nearly as much scenery.

California is worried over the unemployment situation. Thousands of people are coming into the state without any means of support. The federal government threatens to cut off all relief money. Taxes are very high in California, as they are most every place in this nation. What is going to happen this winter is worrying officials.

Don't go to California unless you have money enough to carry you through.

Don't go any place in the west expecting to get a job. Jobs are not to be had.

The earth quake did more damage to California than people on the outside generally supposed. It was not so much the physical damage to property as it was the mental reaction of the the tourist class. Tourist business almost stopped as a result of fear. The depression broke thousands of middlewest farmers and business men who were want to spend the winter in California. Then the earthquake scared so many away that business conditions are very bad.

Property values have tumbled to such an extent the conservative old timers wipe their eyes in amazement and wonder whether or not the bottom has been reached. California was enjoying a huge boom when the depression hit. As a rule the bigger the boom, the greater the panic which follows.

However, this is a fine time for the tourist to take advantage of low prices in visiting California. Apartments may be had at the most reasonable prices that state has ever seen. Food prices are absurdly low. Gasoline sells at half the prices we pay in Texas. There probably never was a time when your dollar would go so far in California as it will go now.

However, this does not go so far as hotel facilities generally are concerned. Hotels all over the nation are being operated by the bond holders who eagerly furnished the money to build bigger and better hotels in 1929. Hotel properties hit a snag the same as other lines of endeavor. The bondsmen are unwilling to take their loss until forced to do so, and generally have taken over the management of the properties. Hotel service generally is bad; and prices are still high.

The tourist camps have taken the travelers' business just as the private cars and busses have taken the business from the railroads. Some of these tourist camps are rather inviting; most of them are run by people who have no matter of knowledge of what sort of facilities should be offered the traveler. Perhaps the tourist is to blame for abusing the privileges given him. Many tourists are totally without the sense of principle, and as a result a majority of these places are not sufficiently attractive to the traveler, who is unwilling to stop at the wagon yard sort of joint. So far as comfort is concerned, the best way to go west is by the Santa Fe.

When you start west, take your automobile registration papers. You are stopped in Arizona and California and are asked for these papers. Less than 50% of Texas people know this. There are so few highways leading into these states that ports of entry stations are maintained to catch the criminals. A stolen car is recovered practically every day of the year by the rangers at the ports of Arizona. They kid Texans for not knowing the laws of western states, and advise them to go back and tell their neighbors to bring along the ownership papers next time.

Californians drive much more carefully than do Texans, and people in eastern states. 45 miles per hour is the speed limit, and traffic is regulated at that speed. Stop signs at frequent intervals on the highways, and limited speed in all towns makes travel very slow as compared with the great open spaces of West Texas. The towns of southern California are so close together you can hardly leave one without running into another. Some of them have traffic cops on duty who believe in enforcing the law.

The exposition at San Diego is a sort of glorified carnival. Aside from the Ford building, the government building and the scientific building, there are few attractions at the fair. Those who saw the Century of Progress were disappointed in the San Diego show.

We are wondering whether or not these shows will not soon come to an end. The big show ran two years at Chicago. San Diego is putting this one on. Dallas will have the Centennial next year. San Francisco is staging one in 1938. Several other states are planning big shows in the future. The United States government has participated in all of these shows up to the present time. It looks to us that this is a very expensive method for commercial firms to advertise their wares. At least few of the big firms were attracted to San Diego. People like to go to fairs, exhibits and big shows, but so far as permanent results are concerned, we doubt if there will be any.

The only way we see for Texas to break even on the appropriation made by the legislature for the Centennial is to raise the gasoline taxes and impose a sales tax. Perhaps a sufficiently large number of people from outside will be attracted to assist in paying the $3,000,000 appropriation. We doubt whether Texas will profit a single penny on a permanent basis as the result of the big show.

Yes, we visited the Grand Canyon. Truly no better name could have been given this work of nature. The Grand Canyon is everything that its name signifies. We can now better understand why the Palo Duro was rejected by the National Park Service as a national park, but can appreciate its very great value as a regional recreational center of an area which has no other great work of nature.

It takes a full day or more to see the Grand Canyon with the exertion of physical effort and considerable physical pain either by mule back or on foot. More people will see the bottom of the Palo Duro as a result of the automobile road, which is impossible in the Grand Canyon.

Of course the big news of Huey Long's murder created considerable comment in California newspapers, but not nearly so much excitement prevailed as in states closer to Louisiana. No words of praise were printed in Western papers, but a greater portion of Long's activities were heartily condemned. Huey long was not nearly so much of a national force as those who live in Texas were lead to believe. He was looked upon as a one man circus. His "share the wealth" camouflage did not fool many people, when they found that the cry was raised so that Huey could collect millions from the people of his state for his own personal benefit and ambitions. "Every man a king" meant only "Huey Long a king." A czar of Long's type has no place in a democracy. It is too early to evaluate either the good or the harm that Huey Long did in Louisiana. No one is pleased to see his fellow man shot down in cold blood, but the fact that armed guards followed him every step of every day was an open invitation to violence.

President Roosevelt will soon start his swing across the nation to California. It is to be hoped that on the way he will stop and talk with his local leaders and get the real sentiment of the people. He has been so long in the confusion of the national capitol where he hears only praise of his immediate followers, that he does not understand the revolt that has taken place during the past few months. While we do not fear the President will eventually find out what is going on, and will be able to stem the tide which is carrying the people away from him, frankly we were surprised to see and feel the sentiment so strong against the administration. Perhaps it is a loud minority, but if this is the case, it is without semblance of leadership, which will make it easier for the President to quiet.

We are glad to have gone to California, but more delighted to have returned to Canyon.

BUFFALOES WILL OPEN SEASON FRIDAY NITE

Sophs Are Making Bids For Permanent Berths On Varsity

Have Been Working Hard For More Than A Week

The Buffalo football season will be opened Friday night at Buffalo Stadium against the strong Panhandle Aggie team.

Coaches Al Baggett and Bob Cox announce the string of 33 men ready for the opening fray, and a splendid exhibition of football is expected in the opening battle.

The Aggies will bring a veteran team, which surprised the Buffs at the opening of last season. Practically the same line-up will function for the visitors as played last year.

The game will start at 8:00 o'clock and promises to be one of the best witnessed on Buffalo field. PICK up—ALL Story

After a week of lengthy sessions of hard scrimmage, the W. T. Buffaloes are beginning to look like a group of veterans in mid-season form. Few injuries have been reported as the sessions grow harder and harder in preparation for the opening season clash with the Panhandle Aggies, Sept. 20.

The lettermen that are due to start against the Aggies are, Leo Jackson, center. Jackson is a junior and weighs 190 pounds. He is an aggressive player with one of the finest spirits that a man could possess. Captain John Rankin completely fills up the right guard post with his 168 pounds of football brains and energy. John Lee of Amarillo College has a small advantage at right tackle over R. D. Wheelock of Silverton; however, this position appears wide open as yet, and no one knows which will start the game.

Stina Cain will start at right end for the Buffaloes. He is a good pass snatcher and blocker. Clinton Meek of Gageby has the left tackle position sewed up until some sophomore shows up and proves to him that he is no longer wanted. Vernon Johnson of Childress will be at one of the backfield posts, with Ezell Champion at the other. Johnson is big and fast; he is also a good line rammer and open field blocker. Champion is one of the most consistent players on the squad. He is a blocker and bears most of the passing and punting burden.

Some of the most promising sophomore material on hand, and some of the first year men that may start the first game are as follows: Lwood Dow of Littlefield. Dow is a strapping 187 pounder that can ram a line with the best of them; he is fast, and can do a nice job of passing if the situation demands. Oscar Hinger of Endee, New Mexico, has been a most pleasing surprise to the men in charge. Hinger, who had very little high school football to his credit when he enrolled as a freshman, has been playing a superb game at left guard. He is one of the hardest fighters on the club, and can get a "wee bit rough" when he takes a notion.

Toby Waggoner, formerly of Amarillo Junior College stands a good chance to start at left end. Waggoner needs no introduction to West Texas football fans. He is one of the best ends ever produced in this country. His defensive work cannot be surpassed, and his pass receiving is above reproach. H. D. Stewart of Lefors may get the call at the quarter position. Stewart is one of the fastest men on the squad. He is especially effective at skirting the ends, and going off tackle. Craig Walling, big 190 pound end from Farwell has been showing up well in scrimmage. Walling is a good defensive end and one of the best kickers on the team. There is no oubt that he will see lots of service this season.

Other varsity men that are sure to see service, and who are going to make the going "hot" for the starters are as follows: George Caviness, squadman of last year's team. He is a good defensive man, and will do part time work at left guard. Lawrence Clark is a hard running back, and pass receiver that will also do his share of the ball carrying. Jack Davis, letterman at left end, will do his share of playing. Davis weighs 180, and will pull many passes down for long gains. Floyd Murry, rabbit back from Floydada, and one of the "sweetest" triple threat men on the squad is nursing a crippled knee that may possibly keep him on the bench during the Aggie game; however, if he gets a chance, just sit by and watch number 20.

You Can Do Fast Work with the McCORMICK-DEERING 10-ft. Tractor Binder

THIS binder, designed for use with McCormick-Deering Tractors, brings real speed to the harvest. It is operated through the power take-off of the tractor and has double the daily capacity of an 8-ft. grain binder.

In this roller-bearing binder the sickle, reel, canvases, packers, and binding mechanism take their power direct from the engine of the tractor—the binder main wheel simply supports the binder. If the grain clogs, the operator halts the tractor while the binder clears itself. In lodged or very heavy grain, the forward speed of the tractor can be reduced while the normal speed of the binder mechanism is maintained, assuring uninterrupted operation.

Come in and let us tell you more about the McCormick-Deering Tractor Binder.

Local People Are Invited to Enter College Class Work

Dr. J. A. Hill, president of the college, is extending a special invitation to people of Canyon to enter classes at the college this year.

Persons who are not interested in college credit can attend classes in any one of the 21 departments. If they wish to visit only one class they can pay an auditor's fee of $5.00 and enjoy all the privileges of the class except college credit. If there are people in town who would like to take a single subject for college credit, the fee for 18 weeks will be $7.50.

Of special interest to the women of the town are courses in art, wood working, home economics, and child psychology.

There are many courses which should be equally attractive to men and women. Texas history, is offered during the year and would enable many people to appreciate the centennial much more fully if they could take it. Courses in English, commerce, geography, geology, government and economics should be equally interesting to both men and women.

There are classes from 8:00 until 3:30 each day so that almost any housekeeper or business man or woman could arrange to attend at least one class three times per week. It is the hope of the college administration that the attendance for the 1935-36 school year will be larger than at any time in the history of the college.

Irby Carruth Tells of His Impressions on European Trip

Irby Carruth talked Tuesday at the luncheon of the Rotary club, giving a brief review of conditions he found on his summer's trip to Europe. He was able to discuss briefly only his visit in England, Scotland and Russia.

Mr. Carruth was a member of a party of 20 school officials directed by Columbia University.

Twelve days were spent in London where the group was shown every courtesy, and were addressed by government officials. The clearing of slums was considered the greatest achievement at the present time by the government.

The group was entertained in Scotland at the expense of the cities visited, and shown all possible hospitality.

Russia was especially interesting to the visitors where so many changes have taken place. The czar was murdered, and a new order along lines of class distinction and worship of Lenin has taken his place. "Waiting" is typical of Russia. No one ever knows when the Russians will get ready to do anything. Trains are the only things which start on time, since the engineer will be shot whose train is late.

Leningrad, formerly St. Petersburg, has all of the palaces of the former czars. These have been transformed into museums where the story of the revolution is vividly presented. Other palaces are turned into hospitals. Everything is drab in Russia, there being no brilliant colors; no well dressed people; everything is dirty. The women do two-thirds of the work, the visitors witnessing women engaged in all types of labor.

Russians are attempting to build a model city of Moscow. The best of everything is located there. They are building along the same line as the czars built at St. Petersburg. The tourists are carefully directed by the government American money is greatly sought after. Everywhere the story of the revolution is shown, and the peasants are shown and told the story of supposed great improvement. Books and magazines are on sale in practically all stores and the people are urged to read. Everything printed favors communism.

A sweeping health program and recreational program are maintained by the government.

In passing out of Russia to Poland, the car doors were locked and shades drawn so that no visitor could see out. Americans wondered what was going on that the government wished to keep them from seeing.

The visit to the other nations could not be covered in Mr. Carruth's first talk.

Chas. Dickey announced that Rotarians would entertain their wives at a picnic supper at the Canyon Club this evening at 5:00 o'clock.

Dean Jarrett issued an invitation to citizens to attend the formal opening of W. T. at 11:00 o'clock Saturday morning, and to hear Congressman Marvin Jones at 11 o'clock Tuesday morning.

Doug Shirley announced the opening of the Buffalo football season Friday night at 8:00 o'clock, and Irby Carruth the Eagles' opening Saturday night at 8:00 o'clock.

Visitors present were: Harvey Allen, John Fain, O. W. Wright, W. S. Norman, F. A. Zimpfer, all of Amarillo; N. Naylor of El Paso; J. R. Gilmore of Wheeler; Dan Sanders of Canyon.

Johnnie Saddler, negro, who was placed in jail last week for hindering work at the Palo Duro State Park, plead guilty Saturday and was assessed a punishment of nine months in jail by Judge B. F. Machen.

Louisiana 'Dictator' Slain; His Iron Reign Continues

Following the assassination of Senator Huey P. Long, whose iron hand in recent years had guided its destiny, stunned Louisiana learned that the powerful "dictatorship" created by Long would be assumed by Gov. Oscar Kelly Allen, shown above with the late senator, with the possibility that Lieut. Gov. James A. Noe, bottom left, would become the Delta State's next governor if Allen resigned to take the U. S. senatorship vacated by Long. At right, below, is Carl A. Weiss, young Baton Rouge doctor who died, riddled with bullets, after shooting Senator Long in the corridor of the magnificent $5,000,000 capitol, center, built by Long and the scene of many of his major political triumphs.

Oscar Eckhardt Is Sold to Brooklyn For Next Season

Oscar Eckhardt of the Mission, Pacific Coast League, has been sold to the Brooklyn Dodgers of the National league, and will report next season. Eckhardt was formerly coach at W. T. He has been leading the minor leaguers in batting for the past four seasons. At the University of Texas he was an outstanding athlete, and played with Amarillo in the Western League before going to the Pacific Coast League.

This will make Eckhard't fourth tryout in the big leagues. He was formerly with the American League at Detroit and Boston. He was turned back each time on account of his unorthodox style of batting.

Mrs. Eckhardt is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. N. Harrison of this city, and will visit with her parents at the close of the baseball season.

Class in Wood Work is Opened to Local Women

A class in wood working is being planned at the college especially for the women of Canyon. Many women have asked Professor John A. Gillis if it would not be possible to have a class in which they might learn to use the tools which are found around an ordinary home and learn to make simple articles and to re-finish pieces of furniture. In order to meet this demand, college authorities have consented to arrange a class of an hour, and on days which will be convenient for the women of the town.

The class will be arranged thru the office of Dean R. P. Jarrett and will be conducted as any other residence class. The fee will be $7.50 for an 18 weeks course.

A Thing Worth Knowing

Eighty-seven per cent of all our impressions and knowledge are through the eyes. In crippling eyesight we are reminded of the old adage of "cutting off the nose to spite the face," except in this case it may be more popularly put as "putting out the eyes to spite a negligible electric service bill." The nation during the last few years has become more and more light conscious. Another way of saying the same thing is that more people are learning that adequate lighting better insures eyesight conservation.

With the entering of thousands of children in school just now, it is doubly important that standard Mazda lamps be provided. The boy or girl who is apparently unable to concentrate on home work at night (or for that matter during the day) may not be lazy, but may merely be working under adverse lighting conditions.

Buy a carton now of six 60-watt Westinghouse Lamps. A carton costs 90c, with no down payment and 45c per month on your service bill. Other sizes may be purchased on liberal terms. Standard lamps now cheaper than ever before.

Come Help Beat Lefors Saturday

Wal, Wal, Wal, if we aint got the most unusual things happening at our school that ever happened. First, Mr. Dickie comes and sings "Old Mike Shinnagin," to us, then Mr. Carruth busts the sophs plans by readin the frosh tea menu out in assembly, and next a married gal comes to school up here, a bunch of boys takes their gals to the creek and leaves them there, then the freshman gals had to walk around the square barefooted and up jumps the seniors and takes a hay ride, and poor Miss Goodrich has a sore mouth and wants a remedy for it. Wal, Miss Goodrich, I'll betcha a plug a tabaccy will fix you up as good as new.

By the way, Mr. Fox is going to make a broadcasting station for you kids to broadcast on, and he wants me to ride a wild hoss on the air about once a week. Now wont that be something. I wish you would hurry up Mr. Fox, so you could broadcast the football games, cause that old team is a-rarin to go, and they wont stop fer anything.

I was out at the practice field the other day and they shore was a hustlin and a hollerin. They says they just cant be beat, and I just purty near believe it too. Just think, they are going to play them Pirates from Lefors Saturday night with their new purple suits on, and that'll be something, too.

Coach Jones says that he has as good a team now as he had this time last year, but he ain't agoin to let them get crippled up like they did last year, and he's not going to let them get lazy and flunk, cause he stands out in the hall every morning and sends everybody to their room, but he says that it just comes natural to them now and he don't have to tell them. Wal, so long, and everybody yell for the Eagles.

SCHOOL NEEDS BOYS' PEP

WANTED: A boy with the initiative to start a boys' pep squad in Canyon High School!

Even if you aren't a football boy that brings honors home to his school, you can play a great influence in his bringing home the bacon by giving support to yells and songs.

When are the boys of this school going to wake up to the fact that a boys' pep squad is as important as a girls; organize it; get a leader, and let the football boys, pep squad girls and towns around know that you are backing your team? You have material to work with, as there are 14 more boys than girls in high school.

The male pep squad wiuld be the getting together of the boys, who would be a great help united, says Mr. Pope.

As a member of the Purple Pep squad, Jean Slack thinks that it would be "very nice to have a boys' pep squad, since the girls' pep squad will be small this year, and male voices give power to the yells and songs."

Leslie Lisle, a football boy, says that "a male pep squad would be one of the best improvements in Canyon High School during the coming year."

A boy with initiative to start such an organization is needed! Heed the call!

BAND HAS FIRST MEETING

The Canyon High School Band under the direction of R. G. Stephenson met for the first time Tuesday, Sept. 10. Great interest was manifested with over 50 people attending. The band will rehearse every afternoon from 3:15 to 4:00 using the Victor method of instruction.

Loyalty Campaign On Ticket Sales Opens

It was announced in assembly Tuesday that the loyalty campaign was to begin as soon as assembly was over.

The classes are contesting to see which class can sell the most season tickets to the football games as has been the custom for several years. The contest is given a percentage basis so that the number of students in the class will not effect the chances of any class to win. The class bringing in the most cash (number of students in the class considered) will win. These tickets are to be sold at $1.20 to school students and $1.80 to the public.

They are also to be sold on a three-week basis for students not wishing to pay all at once. Before the first game, 25 cents down must be paid. Before the second game, 45 cents more must be paid. Then the remaining 50 cents must be paid for the remaining games.

The Ex-Eagles will have charge of the sale of the tickets to the public. These tickets will also be on sale at Bob Black's City Shine Parlor.

Girl Scout Troop Has Two Socials During Weew End

The Girl Scouts of the Thistle Troop had two feature events over the week end. A social at Mary Collins' and a week-end trip to the Canyon Country Club.

The Girl Scouts left Saturday afternoon at three o'clock for the Canyon Country Club where they spent the week end. They were allowed to hike and explore the club grounds until 6 o'clock. During this time the older scouts were to become better acquainted with their smaller sisters. After the different groups returned to the cabins, the Tenderfoot Scouts were initiated into the troop. Sunday afternoon a ping pong tournament was held of which Carolyn Mayfield and Evelyn Cluck were winners.

Thursday night the Scouts met at the home of Mary Collins. The younger scouts played games, while their older sisters made plans for them. Refreshments of punch, sandwiches and potato chips were served. Immediately afterwards "Taps" was sung, and the older girls walked home with their little sisters.

School For Adults Is Organized Mon.

A school for adults over 16 years of age is being conducted at the Canyon High School in the evening during the winter. The school is maintained through federal funds.

The first meeting was Monday evening. Instructors are J. J. Lowry, Silas Hart, Wayne Porter, and Howard Cox.

The purpose of the school is to offer educational advantages to those who are not able to go to school.

Courses that are offered are English, arithmetic, government, history, music, penmanship, citizenship, typing, reading, and geography.

HALF HOLIDAY GIVEN FOR TRI-STATE FAIR

Yesterday aftrenoon was given as a half-holiday for the students of Canyon Public Schools to attend the Tri-State Fair in Amarillo.

Superintendent I. B. Carruth urged all students who wished to attend the fair in the afternoon to do so on that day, so attendance records could be kept clearer, and students would miss no class work.

LET'S BE NEATER

Are Canyon High School students really lazy, or are they just in a hurry to leave school?

One of these is right, maybe both. Books have been left lying on the trophy case in the main hall and on the cases that enclose the fire hose.

Only a few more steps will take students to their lockers—a small amount of energy expended by the student—but oh! the difference in the appearance of the building.

Dell Bagley was in Lubbock over the week end.

Mrs. Lee Foster spent Saturday visting in Amarillo.

Grade Principal Says—

In the first faculty meeting of the Canyon Grade School teachers the time was spent in setting up the framework for procedures and in determining the objectives which should guide the group in the second year of the state curriculum revision program. The present year is to be used in preparation of a statement of objectives for the new course of study which is to be evolved and in the stimulation of teachers all over the state to produce units of work for try-out next year. Each teacher of the Canyon group agreed to cooperate in this program by keeping accurate accounts of the units of work developed and to submit these units to the statte committee for criticism and possible selection for try-out by teachers in other schools.

In order to make a more ideal situation for this work some changes in our objectives, classroom set-ups and procedures are to be made. A more flexible daily program which will permit less rigid adherence to time limits seemed necessary. This does not mean that adequate time will not be set aside for regular drill periods in the skill subjects such as arithmetic, reading, writing, and spelling. It simply means that greater freedom in distribution of time allotments and in class participation in selection of activities will be allowed.

Other Changes

Other important changes are: More creative planning on the part of the teacher; more utilization of children's leads in the initiation and selection of units and activities; greater opportunities for creative an exploratory experiences on the part of the child; wider reading in the field of contemporary life on the part of the teacher. The last item is especially needed by teachers in this type of work.

Our departmental set-up has made it difficult for different subject teachers to work together on units of work. We are seeking to better this condition through the work of a committee made up of the teachers of the social studies which will study the problems with which our community and our children are concerned and select from these problems the units of work to be developed this year. This committee will then meet with the subject teachers and plan for correlations that will help in solving the problem under consideration. In addition, they will enlist and assist the children in selecting the proper activities for the unit.

The patrons of our school are invited to visit us at any time. We seek the co-operation of all but especially of those men and women to whom our boys and girls may come for information about the various communities' activities in which they are interested.

PEP SQUAD HONORS SPONSOR WITH GIFT

The pep squad girls are giving a pep suit to Mrs. Lee Foster this year because of the kind help she has offered during the three years she has been the sponsor of the pep squad.

The suit will be like those of the girls in the pep squad. A shirt waist style sweater with a white C. H. S. angling across the pocket which is on the left side. On the right hand side of the suit, on the sleeve, there is the word "Sponsor" in white letters.

Jean Slack, Jimmie Sol Slack and Renna Beth Bellah visited with Mr. and Mrs. J. D .Slack in Olton, Sunday.

Misses Jewell Foster , Grace Clark, Edith Shields and Mattie Jordan spent Saturday and Sunday in Amarillo.

Boys and Girls Rub Off Shyness While Lunching Together

The usual quiet of the boys' lunchroom was disturbed last Thursday when the girls accepted the boys' invitation to eat dinner with them.

Such visits could be helpful for the boys by improving their ability as hosts. But the girls would not have been entertained had it not been for the mishaps of Sewel Cox, who kept everybody laughing by spilling milk on Billy Greenfield, who helped by turning over her soda pop. Some of the girls who did not accept the boys' invitation Thursday missed all the fun.

School Honored by Visit of Educator From State Depts.

Late Friday afternoon the school was honored to have as visitors Mr. J. D. Wilson, deputy state superintendent, and Dr. Jeremiah Rhodes of California, assistant supervisor in Junior Schools.

Mr. Wilson and Dr. Rhodes visited several classes and inspected the Science laboratory and the high school library.

Dr. Rhodes spoke to the faculty at 4:15 o'clock, giving his philosophy and discussing the aims of education. Both men expressed satisfaction in the excellent work that is being done in the school. They promised to return for further study of the school program.

Mr. Carruth says, "We were delighted to have these two prominent school men and state educators visit our school, and to have Dr. Rhodes give his brief, but enlightening discussion. We are looking forward to having Mr. Wilson, who lives in Canyon, visit with us many times during the coming year. The last few years the Panhandle has been fortunate in having a high type of state supervisors. They have been intelligent educators with progressive views of education and have been able to give very constructive suggestions regarding the growth and improvements of the schools in our district."

Seniors Entertained By School Faculty Tuesday Evening

The members of the faculty entertained the senior class with a formal reception, Tuesday evening, Sept. 17, in the home economics dining room.

The dining room was attractively decorated, carrying out the purple and white color scheme for the reception which began at 7:30 p. m. with a welcome from the senior sponsor, Miss Lois Goodrich. This was followed by a piano solo played by Mrs. John B. Pope. Miss Edith Shields read "A Corner on William," which was followed by piano selections by Mrs. Lee Foster.

The remainder of the evening was devoted to bridge and forty-two. At the close of the evening grape ice cream and angel food cake were served to the seniors and members of the faculty and their families.

CHANGES HAVE BEEN MADE IN SCHEDULE

Several changes have been made in the class schedules this week.

The Junior Business Training class was divided into two sections. This caused Principal John B. Pope to give up his civics class in order to teach both business training classes. Supt. I. B. Carruth took over the civics class.

One freshman English class was overflowing and the other had only a small number. Miss Jewel Foster's class schedule was changed so that her freshman English class is held at the same time as the other section taught by Miss Mattie Jordan.

These changes caused the students' programs to be changed, but no conflict in programs were found.

Wesley Cox, Les Lisle, Bill Bewley, Sewel Cox and Jack Taylor attended the football game played between Lefors and Sayre, Okla., Friday night at Lefors.

Sport Shorts

Faculty, students, and backers of the Canyon High School Eagle football team, we are calling your attention to a very important feature of the school year. Don't misunderstand; we are to have many others of the same type, but this is to be a football game at Buffalo Stadium Saturday night between the Lefors Pirates and the Canyon Eagles.

Folks, this is a very cordial invitation extended to everyone to come out and see the Eagles fly to victory over the Pirates in their first game of the current season.

Coach Jones' Eagles have been training faithfully for six weeks and are looking forward to a victory, so everyone come out and back the Eagles.

A little subject of importance is news received to the effect that Willard Childers is to be a candidate for Wayland College Jackrabbit eleven at Plainview. Willard has shown his ability as football material in his years of action with the Eagles.

The girls have started playing baseball at noon. They are not playing in classes as they did last year, but each day two girls choose sides.

Fox Issued Radio License Recently

A. L. Fox, teacher of science in Canyon High School, has been issued an Amateur Radio License by the Federal Communication Commission for a period of three years. Mr. Fox took an examination last summer over Radio Theory and Laws relating to Radio. The license allows Mr. Fox to broadcast and receive radio messages. His call number is W5FHO. Mr. Fox intends to build an experimental transmitter in his home and exchange messages with other people.

Class Officials Are Elected In Meetings Tuesday

The senior president, Jack Taylor, was elected at the end of the school term last year. Wandell Johnson was elected vice president, and Sarah Bonnie Bourn, secretary and treasurer. Miss Lois Goodrich was elected sponsor at the end of school last spring.

The juniors elected Willard Childers, president; he was the president of the class last year. Melvin Calliham was elected vice president by acclamation. Marielle Oldham was elected secretary and treasurer; she has served in that office for the last two years. Jack Inman was elected sergeant at arms. The juniors elected Principal John B. Pope as their sponsor.

Watermelons And Hay Ride Feature Party for Seniors

With striped overalls, sun-bonnets, hips, and hoorays, 21 members of the senior class and their sponsor, Miss Lois Goodrich rode off at 7 o'clock Saturday night in J. W. Bourn's truck to the G. W. Cox farm.

After slicing around in the truck bed with watermelons for several minutes, they arrived at the south side of the creek on the Cox farm. During this time the truck lights had burned out. The students found that the truck couldn't cross the creek, because of recent washouts. Everyone piled out of the truck and picked his way among the weeds, bushes, mud, and water. When the students tried to drive the truck across the creek, the truck got stuck. The boys had to take the horses from the wagon and pull the truck out. This was done only with much pulling of weeds and heaving and tugging. At last everyone arrived at the top of the hill where all piled on the wagon filled with fresh, green alfalfa.

The moon was already high in the sky, but the seniors were headed for the Amarillo Dam. Sis Overton exclaimed as the wagon started moving, "I don't hear the engine running.

Once when the group came to a ditch and couldn't tell whether it was best to go across or not, some bright senior said, "Turn on the lights."

They finally arrived at the dam after four and one-half miles of riding over a very bumpy road across pastures and hills. Many seniors enjoyed taking turns urging Tobe and Tom, the two horses, down the road.

The watermelons were eaten not with forks but in southern darky style.

The mosquitoes seemed to have enjoyed feasting on senior meat, as the faces of the seniors became quite disfigured from mosquito bites.

When the group arrived at the high school, they discovered they had suddenly turned green; that is, the green alfalfa had stained everything with which it had come in contact.

Kate Donnell spent Saturday with her sister, Mrs. Clarence Bauer.

The 1935 football season will be formally opened Saturday night at Buffalo Stadium when the Canyon Eagles will battle the powerful Lefors Pirates.

This will be the first time the Eagles and Pirates have met on the gridiron. But from the past records of both teams the game promises to be a thriller from beginning to end.

The Lefors Pirates have a reputation of holding their own with the strohg contenders of their district title.

The 1935 Eagles have not been seen in action, but fans expect them to come through with flying colors.

Two Courses Are Offered In Journalism

Two courses in journalism will be offered during the fall semester which began today.

The first of these, News Reporting, will include the getting and writing of news and the rudiments of copy reading. The other course Special Articles, will give training in the writing of interpretative articles and feature stories.

Both courses will be given in the Department of English and will be open to those of sophomore standing and above. On the college program, the courses are listed as English 241, 242. Miss Emil Brewer, a graduate of the School of Journalism of the University of Missouri, will teach these courses. All students who intend to work on the Prairie are required to enroll for one or both of these courses.

Miss O. Sanders Will Teach Bible

Miss Oscie Sanders has arrived on the campus and will offer four courses in Bible this year. These courses will receive college credit and are under the supervision of the college just as all other courses given.

A Freshman course entitled "The Bible and Religious Experience" will be available to lower classmen. Seniors may take this course too, but with the usual lessened credit for Freshman courses taken in the senior year.

Two courses numbered in the 200's, they are: "The Bible as Literature" and "An Introduction to the Practice of Religion."

The only course which will carry a 400 number is called "The Bible as a Source Book." This course, Miss Sanders explained, deals with the Bible in the relation to the history and culture of the Hebrew People. Only students having a prerequisite of six hours of Social Sciences may enroll in this class. It is open to Juniors and Seniors.

Miss Sanders is living in Miss Graham's apartment at the corner of 20th Street and 4th Avenue. She is much pleased with the college situation in Canyon and has already found that the town is friendly and hospitable. She will be active in the work of the Methodist Church here, as well as on the campus.

Cornell survey reveals that, for the first few weeks, freshmen spend about two hours each week writing home. But when dad is properly broken in, they just wire for the money.

New York meteorological survey reveals air pollution is increasing. Still, it's difficult to check those political broadcasters.

Shadow of Italo-Ethiopian War Clouds All Europe, Threatens World Peace

Italy, a "nation on the march," will brook no opposition; that was Il Duce's ultimatum as worried European powers sought to check Italy's Ethiopian campaign.

A FEW weeks ago, seeking to justify his Ethiopian campaign, Il Duce pointed out that other powers in the past had annexed colonies in the same way. Without considering other factors involved, therefore, it might be hard to understand why other European powers, especially Great Britain, have been trying so feverishly to halt Mussolini's African quest.

An Italo-Ethiopian war, however, appears to be not just a private fight between Mussolini and Emperor Haile Selassie. In it are angles that trouble nearly every European power, and seeds of widespread conflict that might even develop into another World War.

If Mussolini found that he had bitten off more than he could chew, his failure to win victory undoubtedly would hurt white prestige in Africa; one reason Il Duce's campaign is distasteful to Great Britain and France, which control much of that continent.

If the Italians should be victorious, France fears her rights to the strategic Djibouti-Addis Ababa railroad would be endangered. And Great Britain eyes with concern Ethiopia's great Lake Tana, one source of the Nile, which irrigates the agricultural lands of Anglo-Egyptian Sudan. Mussolini, victorious, might decide to divert Tana's waters to bring fertility to Ethiopia barrens.

• • •

GREAT BRITAIN is worried, too, about the immensely important "short cut" to her Far Eastern colonies — the Mediterranean-Red Sea route. Without it, British ships would have to travel all the way around Africa. Britain, therefore, is far from eager to see Italy in a position to block the Suez Canal, "jugular vein of the Empire," through which flows British trade to India.

Il Duce's colonial project, in still another way, affects the security of European countries. For years, Italy has been the policeman whose threatening club has helped to keep Germany from effecting Anschluss; i. e., union with Austria.

With Italy's domestic reserve of men and war supplies sapped by her African activities, Nazi-ridden Austria, the Scandinavian countries, France, and other powers fear Germany might seize this opportunity to expand.

These and other reasons account for opposition to Italy's aims. But Il Duce has bluntly told the world that his "nation on the march" will brook no obstacle.

• • •

FOR many years Italy has dreamed of a vast African empire. Her last move to gobble up Ethiopia ended in crushing defeat at Adowa, in 1896, when Emperor Menelik's black hordes annihilated a small Italian army.

The Ualual border clash last Dec. 5, when 110 Ethiopians and 30 Italians were slain, furnished Il Duce the excuse by which Italy could avenge the disgrace of the Adowa massacre, launch her long-delayed African expansion drive, and win Ethiopia's mineral and agricultural treasures.

As his vast and careful preparations reveal, Mussolini realizes his tropical venture will not be a matter of weeks. The barefoot savages who comprise his foe are valiant fighters, and their unorthodox, guerilla tactics may help offset the inferiority of their primitive weapons to the modern artillery, tanks, and bombing planes of the crack Italian troops.

Of immeasurable aid to Ethiopian tribesmen in defending their land is its forbidding terrain. A natural barrier of highlands, plateaus, peaks, chasms, and canyons, offering hiding places for a scattered army of a million men, slope down to malarial jungles, steaming morasses, and scorching desert land.

Whether civilization, administered by Italian hands, will reach Ethiopia, and what effect her subjugation would have on the European situation at large, only time will tell.

Lyceum Numbers Bid Fair To Be Best In History

Students and all lovers of fine arts will be delighted to learn that the lyceum program for the year 1935-36 has been completed and will be the greatest that has ever been arranged for W. T.

Gen. Hugh S. Johnson, of NRA fame, has been secured as the guest speaker for the annual homecoming festivities on Nov. 2. This will be the first lyceum number of the year. It would have been impossible to have secured this brilliant lecturer except for the fact that he will be on his vacation at that time and consented to lecture here in response to the request of Wallace R. Clark, chairman of the lyceum committee.

Next on the lyceum program for the year will be Cornelia Otis Skinner. She is the daughter of one of America's most famous actors, Otis Skinner. She has been associated with her father for some time on the stage and has received the highest acclaim from the critics both here and in foreign countries. She will appear here sometime in the early part of December.

John Erskine, President of the Juilliard Foundation of Music and best known as the author of "The Private Life of Helen of Troy," will appear here in February and will deliver a lecture under the auspices of the lyceum committee.

The last lyceum of the year will be the appearance of Frazer James and his celebrated dance group with a concert pianist in April.

HOPE

Hope is that colored silken thread feeding into the loom of life and woven with the hemp of reality into clothing for the soul. When destiny, the tailor, wishes to clothe a special client, the bright strands of dreams go into the warp, and strange brave designs appear in the fabric. Because it may need to last long, the strength of courage is twisted in the woof or raiment for those whose feet climb eagerly toward the peaks.—Matador Tribune.

sion is Community Recreation, designed to fit young people to organize and direct both summer and winter recreation programs for people of all ages. This course is demanded because of the shorter working day and week of the modern world.

Texas history will be emphasized in connection with the general interest created by the Texas Centennial.

The department of geography will have a course called Historical Geography, which deals with the influence of geographical conditions upon history. This course will be taught by Professor Darthula Walker who is a member of the Texas State Curriculum Committee and author of the Texas Supplement to the geography used in the public schools of the state.

The department of archaeology and paleontology will probably attract many students this year. Last year the work was new and probably the majority of college students did not know what the words archaeology and paleontology meant. Those who enrolled for the course last year found them mind stretchers and found that their acquaintance with the earth was much deepened through them. Field trips to the Palo Duro canyon and breaks of the Canadian river and many other places added to the interest in the courses. The laboratory work in these courses sometimes includes preparing fossil remains for exhibition purposes. The archaeology courses include field trips to Indian ruins of the Panhandle.

Two courses in journalism will be offered during the first semester. They will be taught by Miss Emil Brewer, a 1935 graduate of the School of Journalism of the University of Missouri. The English department is especially glad to offer these courses, since nearly every high school now has its own publication and sponsors are in demand.

For the first time courses in Bible will be given for college credit with Miss Oscie Sanders, recently of Scarrett college and the University of Chicago as instructor. These courses will meet a demand which has existed a long time and will supplement the work which the churches of Canyon have done in this field of study.

Change has been made in the mathematics department with a year's work in practical mathematics designed to meet the needs of persons who want to be able to conduct their business affairs with maximum intelligence and understanding.

Practically every one of the twenty departments of the college will offer some courses which has not been given before. This does not mean that a great number of courses have been added, but that courses are being changed to suit needs and interests, according to the course committee which is headed by Dean R. P. Jarrett.
